SIR,

H.S.

In forwarding herewith a copy of Resolution No.V regarding the extension of the maximum period of two years allowed for the revival of lapsed policies under Public Branch Rule 19, passed at the quarterly meeting of the Mysore State Life Insurance Committee held on 13th February 1937, I have the honour to request you to kindly obtain sanction of Government for effecting necessary amendment in the rule, and for extending this concession to all pending cases wherein Surrender value has not already been authorised. The object of this amendment is to provide greater scope for the revival of policies many of which irrevocably lapse on account of the existing limit of two years. In allowing such revival, the office does not lose anything, but on the other hand, gains by way of interest and the retention of a policy holder. Most of the Indian Life Assurance Companies have not prescribed any time limit for effecting revivals.

Early orders of Government are solicited in order to facilitate the prompt disposal of pending cases.
